

"Replacing the crutches and excuses for failure with the tools for LIFELONG SUCCESS!"

Over the past 29 years, RELAT has given children the options below!

In 1986, when RELAY was founded, Morningside/"Grove" area of Greensboro gave children the option above (left).

FACT # 1: Our children, communities, schools and tax-payers are ‘TIRED’ of the rhetoric (“Children First”; “Make A Difference”; “For the Children”, etc.)

They want, demand and deserve RESULTS!

FACT# 2: There are countless “Adult feel good” educational/youth development programs out there professing to do everything from “save our children” to “ensure their success in academics and life!” Many,
in fact only provide “body counts” of how “many”
children they have engaged (quantity, not quality)
(Some can, in fact, have a significant positive impact concerning a child's academics and/or overall development)

*Raleigh Police Dept./ AmericasCHILD's RELAY Youth Development Program

FACT # 3: Few, if any, children/youth development programs have achieved the success of AmericasCHILD'S RELAY City of Greensboro "Year Round" Youth Development Proposal' Research Education & Literacy Assistance for Youth (RELAY) program over the past 25 plus years!

FACT# 4: NOT JUST NUMBERS OR STATISTICS: RELAY has been a "pioneer" in, not only introducing young people (6-19 years of age) to the "hi-tech" world of computers and video production-- but over the past 20 years RELAY has been able to "document" on video and more importantly; in the words and achievement of former RELAY participants, the successes and impact of the program on their lives some 20 years later!

*"Having repeated a grade and simply hating to read, I simply could not believe that less than a year later, at 9 or 10 years old, I was helping to produce my own TV show and broadcasting it to the community!"

-Nichole Brown-Slaughter, participant 1988-94 NC A&T grad.

*"In applying to college, I simply used most of the things and my experiences with RELAY. RELAY was not about video production. It was about the whole arena of "information technology". Who would have thought that that would be what the world is based on today."

- Evan Sloan, RELAY participant 1991-94, recent UNC grad.

*"As a teacher and in my present capacity as an Instructional Resource Teacher at East Wake Middle School responsible for in-house teacher training; my experiences with RELAY has made my life a lot easier, because I can do video, power point presentations and a lot of practical skills I learned at an early age."

-Karen Harris-Alston, RELAY participant 1990-94, NC A&T grad.

*"When I did my undergrad at Xavier (La.), I'd be in the room with a group of Mass Communications & TV Production majors, and I'd know exactly what they were talking about because of RELAY. They didn't believe that I'd had my own TV show at 14-15 years old."

-Dr. Mayisha White-Dunham, RELAY participant 1989-94, M.D./MBA Owner/ Operator of Dunham Healthcare of Greenville, N.C.

*"It (RELAY) was like a job. We worked hard and we learned "responsibility" at an early age. We met so many important people, who didn't know who we were--but were impressed by our professionalism and how well we conducted ourselves. I'll always treasure my RELAY experiences."

- Tia Monroe-Hill, RELAY participant 1990-94, Top Grad. School of Engineering A&T

*"We gave away so many books to kids in the community. Even though I started RELAY at 8 years old, I was impressed with how much good we did for kids in the community who weren't a part of RELAY. People thought that RELAY was just for black kids or "underprivileged" children. But while its true a lot of black kids took advantage of the opportunities offered by RELAY, it was always open to all children, regardless of race, social or economic status. We did a lot of good."

Tia Monroe-Hill started working with RELAY program at the age of 7; video taping Greensboro (NC) City Council meetings and hosting RELAY's "Gate City View" show.

At 21, she graduated at the top of her Engineering class at NC A&T State University. Today, Tai is a mother of two girls and even though she has a degree in Engineering, based in part upon her experiences and expertise as with many RELAY students, this mother of two little girls decided to exercise her entrepreneurial spirit and opened her own successful beauty salon, Naturally Beautiful Hair Studio.

Dr. Mayisha White-Dunham entered the RELAY program at the age of 14 and went On to graduate from Xavier University and East Carolina Medical School with an MBA Degree as well. She talks fondly of the confidence and skills training RELAY offered. Today, this mother of two girls and a son, and her husband (also a medical doctor); is the owner and CEO of Dunham Healthcare in Winston-Salem, NC.

Nilaja (Mangum) Goins also got her early introduction to technology in RELAY's year round after-school program. Nilaja research and wrote scripts, hosted, ran cameras and computer graphics. She attended NC A&T where she studied Computer Science. Today, she lives in Orlando, Fla. and is a Computer Application Developer for the Northrop Grumman Company, one of America's leading defense contractors. Today, she is the mother of two daughters and has her own software development company, Above Solutions; and works as a software engineer for Defense Contractors in the Maryland, Washington, D.C. area.

At the age of 11, Evan Sloan, and his twin brother Jason, traveled over 50 miles round trip (from Reidsville) to participate in the RELAY program. He learned the technology of cameras, computer graphics, audio engineering--but most of all, Evan says he benefited from learning "teamwork" and co-operation. Evan graduated from the University of North Carolina (UNC) and continues to work in his field of study--Health Care in San Antonio, Texas.

Jason Sloan says that RELAY was a very important part of his life in helping to build his self-esteem, character and ability to conquer challenges. Jason worked tirelessly as a director, camera operator, computer graphics operator and audio engineer. After graduating from the University of North Carolina (UNC); he has gone on to become an entrepreneur focusing on e-commerce and traffic design for web-sites.

Always the athlete participating in basketball, softball and Karate, Kodi Scott developed a "thirst" technology once she entered the RELAY program at 11 years of age. Kodi directed many of RELAY's weekly productions; as well as the "live" production of the Greensboro City Council Meetings. She went on to earn a degree in Mechanical Engineering from N.C. A&T State University and is currently an Engineer at the physical plant at a major university in South Carolina.

Rashida Mangum entered the RELAY program as an eight year old and within a few short months was operating the "lead" camera at the Greensboro City Council Meetings (live production). Additionally, her love for reading, writing and computers made her an invaluable part of RELAY's overall production and program design. She attended East Carolina University and is currently pursuing her degree in Sports Medicine at Meredith College (Raleigh) and is a program design expert and top official at AmericasCHILD. She is now gainfully employed in the Information Technology Department at Duke University.

Sean Akil Wingate came to RELAY in 1988 as a very intelligent, but extremely shy 11 year old. By 1993 towards the end of his RELAY experience—he had transformed into a very outspoken “Host” of many RELAY productions and a person of unlimited talents including producing, directing, script writing, editing. He went on to earn a degree in Theatre and Broadcasting from Howard University and today he has taken those skills internationally as an actor of TV and Major Motion Pictures; in addition to his unlimited musical talents (singer-songwriter/producer/composer and musician). After further studies and a degree from University of Bristol, in the United Kingdom; today he is a legitimate international star whose tour in '08 takes him from Moscow, Russia; Edinburgh, Scotland; Melbourne, Australian; Paris, France; Tokyo, Japan and cities throughout America. Akil lived in Paris, France for 5 years before moving to Switzerland! He now has returned to live in Paris.

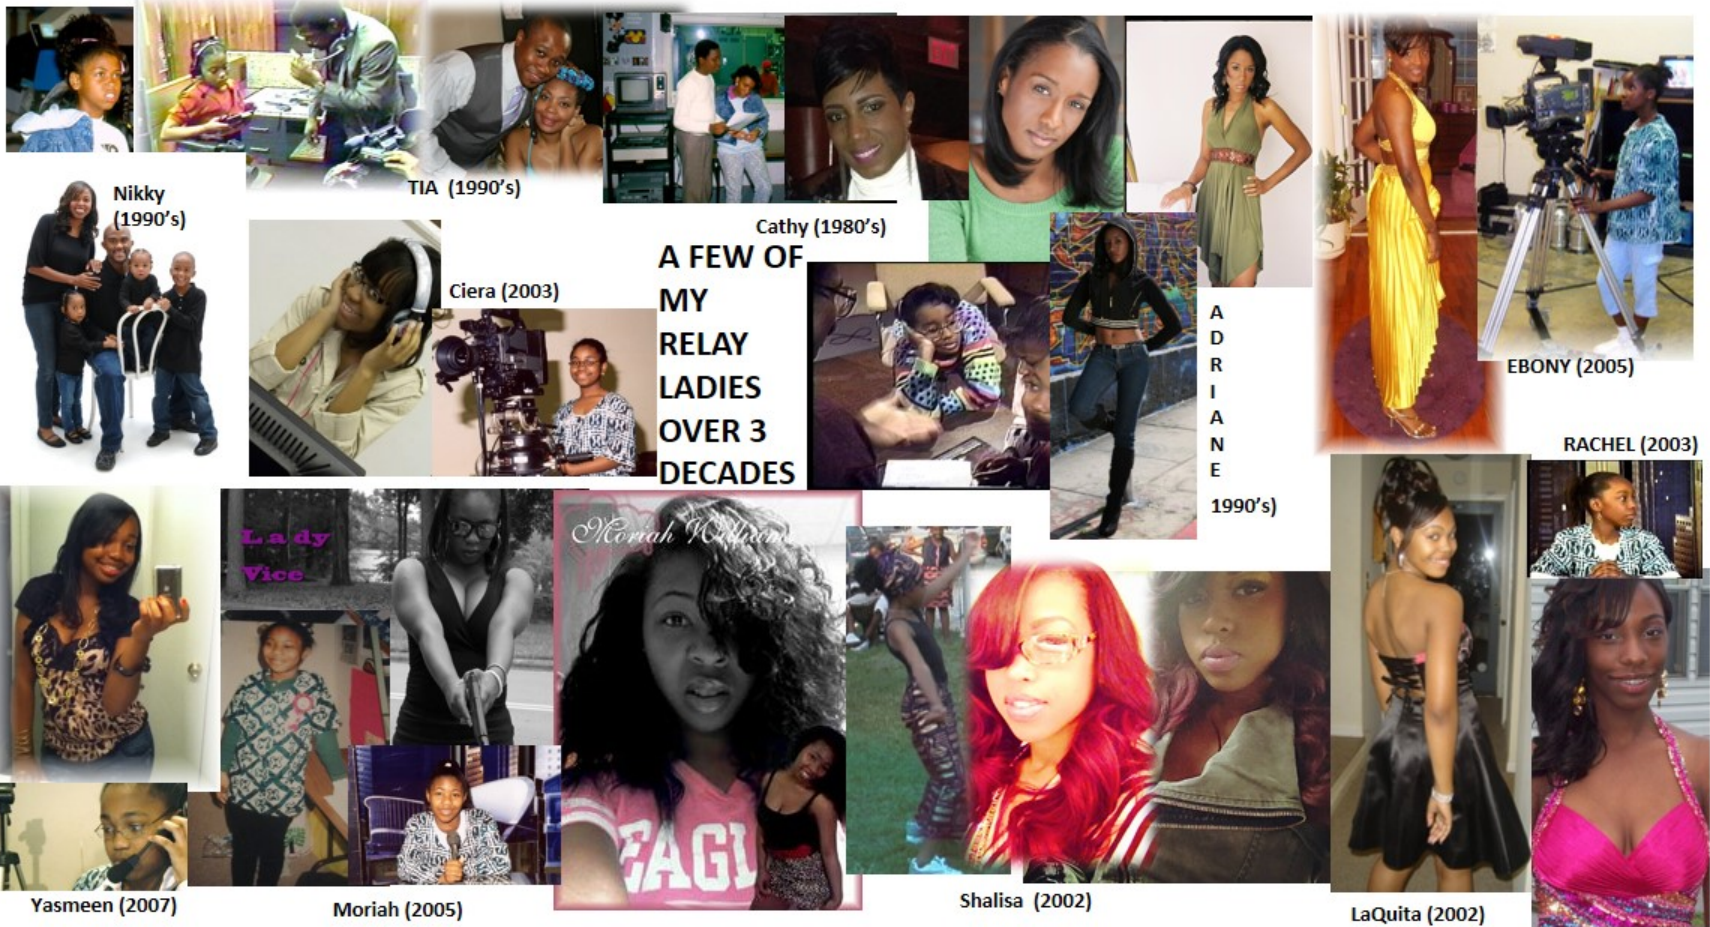

“I want to thank you for the priceless experience that Relay afforded me in my youth. It certainly has proven to be a definite foundation for my life and career today as an artist. I can only wish the best henceforth for any new RELAY participants. They will truly benefit!” Cheers

"Our programs are designed to take away the "crutches" and "excuses for failure", and replace them with "Life-long" developmental tools and skills for SUCCESS!"

At the core of RELAY's program is the drive for literacy--reading, writing and communicating. Thus RELAY's early programs of purchasing and giving away over 6,000 new books to children throughout Guilford County; and sponsoring children 3 years and up to be on its' "Gate City View" show to give "Community Book Reports", earned RELAY a national award from the American Library Association. In addition to the hundreds of DIRECT RELAY success stories, there are also hundreds of indirect success stories like Mathews Bryant, the 3 yr old on the left; who admitted that his appearance on RELAY's TV show & book giveaway, inspired him academically and today he's earned a PhD in Forensic Science and is a college professor in Texas.

TO ALL MY FORMER AmericasCHILD RELAY STUDENTS; THANK YOU FOR YOUR MILITARY SERVICE.

The emphasis will be on "collective cooperation" rather than "individual competitiveness"; on "learning and application" rather than grades and testing". The implementation of this program will occur through a systematic introduction and continuous application of skills necessary towards the development of life long success. Thus, through ongoing counseling, reading enhancement and tutoring and video production student participants will learn and "use" the following:

- Decision Making

- Time Management
- Organizational Management
- Vocational Training (application)
- Networking
- Responsibility (equipment maintenance, assignments & duties)
- Evaluation and Follow-up
- Quality Control
- Planning and Alternative Planning
- Self Esteem, Self Worth, Self Appreciation
- Racial/Ethnic Tolerance
- Effective/Persuasive Communication (written & oral)
- Goal Setting (group and individual)
- Self Appraisal/Self Analysis

Steps to Starting a RELAY Program:

- STEP 1: Consultant/Strategy Session-AmericasCHILD will meet with your organization's representative for "pre-implementation" planning. Organization should make available organizational (a) mission statement; (b) goals & objectives; (c) short range and long range goals, etc.
- STEP 2: AmericasCHILD (consultants) will perform inventory, assessment and evaluation of organization's facilities, equipment and supplies relative to implementing the RELAY program.
- STEP 3: Using the information collected in STEPs 1 & 2; AmericasCHILD will create a "recommended" equipment, supply and facilities needs list that should ensure the ability to meet the production objectives outlined in the "Consultant/Strategy Session".
- STEP 4: AmericasCHILD (consultants) will work with your organization to identify staff, employees or volunteers within your organization who may be suitable for training for operating and maintaining the RELAY program over a protracted period of time (the long run).

Steps to Starting a RELAY Program:

- STEP 5: AmericasCHILD will work with your organization to evaluate children/youth participants (present & anticipated) who may benefit from participation in the program.
- STEP 6: AmericasCHILD will identify, contact and evaluate local Video/TV production and RELAY program enhancement facilities, programs, businesses and educational institutions in the area that are interested or capable of assisting with the implementation of the RELAY program.
- STEP 7: AmericasCHILD will work with your organization to create a “tentative” time-table (line) for implementing and maintaining a RELAY program.
- STEP 8: AmericasCHILD will assess and recommend Community Access Networks, local and independent TV stations for the possibility of dissemination and distribution of productions over broadcast networks and/or channels--to include internet publishing on the client organization's website and other appropriate internet locations.

Steps to Starting a RELAY Program:

- STEP 9: AmericasCHILD will assist the client organization in publicizing, and if requested, children/youth recruitment for participation in the RELAY program.
- All of the aforementioned will be performed on an agreement with AmericasCHILD functioning as a “consultant” and as a “prerequisite” to granting a full RELAY program to the requesting client organization. The granting of a “Full RELAY” program status would initiate with the signing and acceptance by AmericasCHILD and the client organization of a one year (or more) contract which includes first year administration and implementation of the program and training of client organization’s staff, employee(s) and/or volunteers (up to a total of three). Such training will be for the purpose of having “in-house” administration of the RELAY program after the first year. However, the client organization can choose to retain AmericasCHILD consultant(s) (up to two) to continue administering the program beyond the first year on a consulting-contractual basis.
